It is common for students, especially high school and college students, to do part-time jobs in their spare time. Part-time jobs are good for young people. They allow teenagers to gain a little job experience and make a bit of money. They also offer them opportunities to communicate and cooperate with others. Students can put what they have learned into practice as well. Compared with other hobbies and activities, part-time jobs can help teenagers prepare for future life.

Nowadays, there are many different part-time jobs for teenagers to choose from. The most common ones are waiters, waitresses and salespersons. Besides, some students choose to give out leaflets in the streets or supermarkets. If they choose a part-time job related to their major, they can also gain some practical knowledge to improve their skills.

Teenagers can learn great lessons from part-time jobs. They can learn how to communicate with others, how to work with others and how to make use of their time. The money they earn can be used to pay for college education or favourite things. These are all necessary lessons they will use later in life.

However, in my opinion, every coin has two sides. Part-time jobs will take up learning time and distract attention. For students, the most important thing they should bear in mind is that they should try to balance their studies and part-time jobs.

31. Who is suitable for part-time jobs?

- A. Primary school students.                      B. High school and college students.
C. Kids.    D. Adults.

32. What can teenagers get from part-time jobs?

- A. Money.    B. Experience.
C. Great lessons.                                      D. All of the above.

33. What are the most popular part-time jobs for teenagers?

- A. Drivers, teachers and doctors.                  B. Cooks, policemen and farmers.
C. Waiters, waitresses and salespersons. D. Postmen, firefighters and fishermen.

34. What is the author's attitude towards part-time jobs?

- A. Part-time jobs are good for teenagers.
B. Part-time jobs are meaningless.
C. Part-time jobs have advantages and disadvantages.
D. Part-time jobs are not suitable for teenagers.

35. Which of the following statements is NOT true according to the passage?

- A. Part-time jobs can offer teenagers opportunities to communicate with others.
B. Teenagers can gain some practical knowledge to improve their skills.
C. Teenagers can't make good use of the money they gain from part-time jobs.
D. Teenagers should try to balance their study and part-time jobs.

C

With most companies using the Internet to recruit and hire employees, it has become increasingly harder for job seekers to tell a genuine( 真实的)job offer from a fake( 虚假的)one.

While most people are not easy to fall into the job search traps( 陷阱), others may not be. But once you know what warning signs to look out for, you'll be much safer. Here are some signs to help you determine whether a job offer is a trap.

1. You're offered the job without an interview. If you're offered a job without even having an interview, alarm bells should be ringing!

2. The salary is higher than the market value. If the salary sounds completely unreasonable compared to the hours that you've been asked to do, then you're definitely a victim of a fake job offer.

3. The e-mail text is unprofessional. If the email doesn't read well to you, then chances are the offer is fake.

4. There's no company or contact information. If there's no professional email footer or any contact information, then it's likely that you're dealing with a fake job offer.

5. You're asked to transfer money. Anything involving money should be a big red flag.

6. You're asked to provide personal information. A fake job offer also asks you to provide your bank details, ID card and social insurance.

So, there you have it. These are the best ways to identify and avoid job search traps.

36. How many job trap signs are mentioned in the passage?

- A. Four.                      B. Five.                      C. Six.                      D. Seven.

37. Which is NOT the warning sign we should look out for according to the passage?

- A. The e-mail text is professional.
B. The salary is higher than the market value.
C. You're asked to transfer money.
D. You're asked to provide your bank details, ID card and social insurance.

38. What's the meaning of the underlined phrase "a big red flag"?

- A. 一面红色的大旗                      B. 一只红色的大青蛙
C. 一个大骗子                          D. 一个危险的信号

39. Which of the following statements is NOT true according to the passage?

- A. If you're offered a job without having an interview, you should pay attention to it!
B. It is not normal if the salary sounds completely absurd(荒谬的) compared to the hours that you've been asked to do.
C. Anything involving money isn't worthy of your attention.
D. If there's no professional e-mail footer or any contact information, then it's likely that you're dealing with a fake job offer.

40. What is the best title of this passage?

- A. How to Avoid Fake Job Offers
B. How to Find a Job
C. Finding a Job Is Easy
D. A Good Job

卷二 (非选择题 共 25 分)

三、补全对话(本题 5 个空, 每空只填一词, 每空 1 分, 共 5 分)

- A: I heard you did a part-time job during the summer holiday. What 41 of job did you do?
B: I worked as a waiter in a restaurant.
A: 42 did you work?
B: I worked from 10:00 a. m. to 7:00 p. m.
A: What did you do?
B: I took the customers' orders and served them.
A: 43 do you think of this experience?

B: I think it's tiring but helpful.

A: 44 did you say that?

B: Because it's not easy to be a waiter. But I learned how to communicate with others and earned money for the first time.

A: I think you really learned a lot. I'd 45 to take a part-time job in my spare time, too.

四、短文填空(本题 10 个空, 每空只填一词, 每空 1 分, 共 10 分)

阅读短文, 在空白处填入一个适当的单词或括号内单词的正确形式。

ABC Supermarket placed 46 advertisement on the Internet for a job vacancy as a salesman for two months. I found it 47 (suit) for me to 48 (earn) some pocket money this summer. I sent my application at once and got a good reply.

As a green hand, I could not do well at the beginning. I was a little shy and didn't know how to communicate with 49 (customer). Fortunately, my colleagues helped me a lot. Gradually, I have gained some skills and sold goods well. I think this experience will be 50 (use) when I apply for future jobs.

A part-time job can offer 51 (I) a good chance to experience the real world outside of school. I can earn some money from 52 this and therefore become somewhat more independent from my parents. Of course, I am 53 (grate) for my parents' constant 54 (encourage) and support. I got a lot from the part-time job and I never forgot I should be 55 (responsibility) for my study as a student.
